

Baked Apples, Bread and Marshmallows!

The final session saw the redemption of a promise, made possible only by a reprieve in the weather! The OLC enjoyed some baked apples and marshmallows on the embers of the fire that they had learned about, with a batch of freshly baked bread as a side. The children were really sensible, and seemed to love the Cox's Orange Pippins that I collected yesterday – the very same variety that featured in the class novel we shared last year... Danny Champion of the World. As the nights draw in, the whisp of smoke greeted the parents and they took some very happy, sugar fuelled children home safe and sound. Sticky learning – it's the way! I would just like to thank all of the volunteers who have helped at club this half term. Without them, there would be no experiences like this for the children. Until next half term, Mr C
